Roseville needs more leaders who understand how to create jobs and strengthen our economy. The fact is, Scott (Alvord) is the only candidate in the race who has signed both sides of a paycheck, having built three businesses from the ground up. He's also helped lead rebuilding our downtown and bring thousands of new visitors to our community as president of the Downtown Roseville Merchants Association. If we are going to build a stronger economy in this community (and we need to since our unemployment rate exceeds the state average) we need local policymakers who understand that work firsthand. In the race for Roseville City Council, Scott Alvord clearly fits that bill.

I urge my neighbors to cast at least one of their three votes for a proven job creator, Scott Alvord.

Jeff Anderson, Roseville
